Issue Brief: Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act (HR 6893)

Congress approved the bipartisan Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act of 2008 (HR 6893). The legislation was a result of bipartisan negotiations between the House and Senate over Fostering Connections to Success Act (HR 6307) and Improved Adoption Incentives and Relative Guardianship Support Act of 2008 (S 3038).

The House passed HR 6893 on 9/17/08 by a voice vote. Representative Jerry Weller (R-IL) recognized the support letters received from the Conference of Chief Justices and the Conference of State Court Administrators in his remarks on the House floor and asked that the letters be inserted in the record. The Senate approved HR 6893 by unanimous consent on 9/23/08. The President is expected to sign the legislation.

The legislation provides for significant reforms of the child welfare system.

HR 6893 includes provisions to:

- Give states the option of using Title IV-E funds for relative guardianship assistance payments;
- Create competitive Family Connection Grants that can be used for any of four purposes – (1) kinship navigator programs, (2) intensive family-finding efforts, (3) family group decision-making meetings, and (4) residential family treatment programs;
- Require states to exercise due diligence to identify and provide notice to all grandparents and other adult relatives within 30 days after the removal of a child from a parent unless there is an issues domestic violence;
- Allow states the option of extending foster care maintenance, adoption assistance, and relative guardianship assistance payments to children aged 18, 19, 20, or 21;
- Require states to assist a child aging out of foster care to develop a transition plan;
- Allow states to be reimbursed at a graduated and increasing rate for short-term training provided to relative guardians, private child welfare agencies approved by the state, court staff, agency attorneys, attorneys representing children or parents, guardians ad litem, court appointed special advocates, in addition to those already eligible for reimbursement;
- Require states to address education stability in each child's case plan;

Issue Brief: Fostering Connections to Success and Increasing Adoptions Act (HR 6893)

- Require states to develop a plan for on-going oversight and coordination of health care services for any child in foster care;
- Require states to make reasonable efforts to (1) place siblings in the same foster care placement and, (2) in cases where the siblings cannot be placed together, to provide for frequent visitation or other on-going interaction between the siblings;
- Give Indian tribes and tribal associations direct access to Title IV-E funds if they choose to operate a foster care and adoption program;
- Reauthorize the Adoption Incentives Program, which provides states with financial rewards for increasing the number of children adopted from their foster care systems; and
- Establish 2007 as the new base year against which future performance will be measured for the Adoption Incentives Program and increases the bonus amounts for special needs and older child adoptions.

A more detailed overview of the legislation is attached.
